

EFACTOR SP Z O.O.

eFactor

Digital factor, real change.

eFactor is a company, which was created with passion. We are a team of people who can transform visions and ideas into products. We don't know the phrase 'it can't be done' - instead, we are more likely to ask 'how it can be done', and then we just make it happen. Using skills and experiences of our team members in the field of game design, e-learning, managing and working in the creativity-driven environment, we design and create projects, often considered impossible. Our passion is to be innovative, which drives us to make things, not to talk about making things.

Actually eFactor created a unique system (more-than-manager.com) which develops human competencies. The system is based on the best experiences of the Assessment / Development Center. We are the first and the only users of electronic methods of simulation. We rely on internationally recognized competency profiles concerning management, sales, entrepreneurship and soft skills.

Products & Services: Offered products/services: Game-based learning, Online assessment/development center, dedicated services.
